

This revised article gives a very boring overview of structural, functional and molecular imaging findings a some atypical Parkinsonian syndromes

All tables and figures have now been moved into supplementary materials, leaving a very dry summary of plain text, with not attempt to discuss the differential diagnosis or the hierarchy of tests to be applied